Quality Tools for Smart Cleaning

Cleaning indoor windows poses 2 key challenges – efficiency and safety.

Current traditional tools and methods lead to time consuming issues, such as re-arranging of furniture and electrical equipment for safe access and reaching high or unusually positioned windows. Finding solutions to these issues results in more wasted time and increases risks associated with the use of ladders and access equipment.

The need for intensive training of the least experienced staff creates additional problems, so these infrequent periodic cleaning tasks are often passed to specialist teams or subcontractors.

Meet the UNGER Stingray, the ready-to-run solution to your indoor window cleaning needs.
